BIG REVIVAL OPENS ON TIME!

RACE RIOTS AT LONGVIEW, TEXAS

FOUR WHITE MEN INJURED BY NEGROES IN FITCHED BAT-
TLES; NEGROES FLEE; 5
HOUSES BURNED.

By the Associated Press
LONGVIEW, Texas, July 11.—Four white men were wounded early today when negroes fired on whites they had waylaid when whites had gone to the negro school after a negro teacher accused of making derogatory remarks through a negro newspaper about a young woman of the county. Fifteen whites returned the fire of the negroes while ammunition lasted then retreated for reinforcements. When they returned the negroes had disappeared. The whites burned to the ground five of the principal negro residences. The city was quiet shortly before noon.

FIRST MORNING MEETING OF REVIVAL AT TABERNACLE

At 10 o'clock, sharp, Mr. Ramsay opened the first morning meeting of the Co-operative Revival this morning. There was a spacy song service of ten or fifteen minutes, closing with a solo by Professor Ramsay who sang "Find the Secret Closet, Christ Will Meet You There."

When Dr. Ham took the stand at 10:15 he said that he would not vote the denominations at this service. He also referred to certain stewards that do not stew and deacons that do not deak. He talked suggestively concerning "The Ephesian Revival" and gave his audience many practical hints as to the wisdom of the church being filled with the divine spirit and her ministry baptized from above. The service closed promptly at 11 and the goodly audience dispersed feeling that it had been good to be at the meeting.

On the Pike.
The old national pike, that magnificent road that used to run from Maryland to Illinois, witnessed some sharp brushes of fast driving and many an adventure of travel. The New York Tribune tells one story about Henry Clay, who was sometimes called the "Father of the Turnpike." He was traveling along the pike in a coach, when the horses ran and spilled him out headlong into the miry road. "A harm done," he said when the coach rushed to pick him up. "Only a poor mixture of Pennsylvania sand with Kentucky clay!"

When Virginia Seceded.
On April 17 in 1861 the state convention, composed of the members of the legislature of Virginia, passed the "ordinance of secession" by a vote of 88 to 55. Virginia, 11 days prior to this, had refused to join the states of America; but the decision of the Confederate leaders to fire upon Sumter and Lincoln's call for 75,000 volunteers on April 15 turned the scale and Virginia threw in her lot with the South.

Tides of the Ocean.
The incoming and the outgoing of the tides is caused by the gravitational influence of the moon. The moon, so to speak, draws or lifts the water from the depths on the same principle that a pump lifts water. And as with a pump, the water rushes in to fill the space left; so the shallow water near shore rushes out to fill the extra space caused by rising of the water, on the principle that water seeks its own level.

The fire department had a run this morning about 1 o'clock. The alarm was turned in by several people and the run was to Claud McMillan's home on East Fourteenth street. The cause of the fire was the leaving of the electric iron turned on when the family retired last night. The ironing board caught fire and burned, but no other damage was done. The room was filled with smoke which made it look as if the whole house was burning.

Oklahoma Educational Association Organized After California Plan

At the last meeting of the Oklahoma State Teachers' Association in Oklahoma City, the association was re-organized upon a plan somewhat similar in form to that used in California and, in a modified form, in eight other states of the union.

Under the new organization, the constitution provides for a board of directors consisting of one director from each normal school district, a permanent secretary with an office in the state capitol, a business assembly consisting of one representative from each affiliated county in the state and an educational journal with the secretary as editor in chief.

The plan of government organizes the teachers of the state by counties, by normal school districts, and in a state-wide organization; the individual teachers working in the county and district associations, and delegates from the county associations constituting the business assembly in the state association.

One membership fee of $2 entitles the teacher to membership in the county, the district, and the state associations and to all the issues of "The Oklahoma Teacher," the official organ of the institution, published monthly from September to June.

The purposes of the organization are to enable the teachers to work out, through counties and the business assembly, any educational problems of interest; to be an effective force in legislative and educational affairs; to do constructive work for the betterment of conditions; and to be of mutual benefit to teachers, the local communities, and the state at large.

Following are the officers of the association:

A. C. Parsons, president.
W. C. Canterbury, permanent secretary.

Directors: W. J. Masterson, Hugh A. Carroll, John G. Mitchell, A. W. Fanning, M. H. Shepard, Mrs. Susan R. Fordyce.

The secretary opened his office in Oklahoma City July 1. He has visited all of the state normal schools during the present term and reports a membership of approximately 1,600, with the state university and the A. and M. college yet to be canvassed. He says the plan is being enthusiastically received wherever he has been, and that when schools open in the fall a membership of from eight to ten thousand is not improbable.

Mr. Canterbury is now presenting the plan to the students and faculty of the East Central State Normal school and he reports fine interest and a good enrollment.

NEIGHBOR ACCUSES NEIGHBOR OF STEALING

A squabble between two neighbors who live near the county line about seven miles south of Stratford was aired in Justice H. J. Brown's court this morning.

The principals in the case were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Proctor and their daughter, Mamie, and Mr. W. H. Lamb. The Proctors accused Lamb of stealing twenty-eight turkeys from their place last October.

The first witness to testify was Mrs. Proctor. She stated that she raised twenty-eight pet turkeys at her home, besides two wild turkeys. She sold the wild turkeys, to Mr. Proctor, on October 8, according to her statement, he giving her a check on a bank at Roff.

On October 6 her twenty-eight pet turkeys left home and she saw them no more until October 20, when six of them strolled leisurely in. She stated that on the 24th of October she became suspicious of her neighbor and went unseemly to his house and found her turkeys in Lamb's pens. Her husband and daughter both testified the same, that the turkeys disappeared October 6, and nothing was heard from them until the six came home on the 20th.

They also testified that Mrs. Proctor sold the wild turkeys to Mr. Lamb on October 8, he giving her a check for them. Mr. Lamb was represented in the trial by Attorney Robert Wimbish, who made a searching cross-examination of each witness. When the state rested, Mr. Wimbish stated that the only evidence he would offer would be the check Mr. Lamb gave Mrs. Proctor for the wild turkeys. It would serve, he said, to prove that the Proctors were not to be believed in their statements of date, as the check was dated October 1, and was cashed October 2. The Proctors contended that the check was paid to them and the sale made on the 8th.

Judge Brown held to the view of Mr. Wimbish and the case against Mr. Lamb was thus dismissed.

BIG DIRIGIBLE SHIP OVER HALF WAY ACROSS ALREADY

PACKER'S TRUST NOW IMMINENT!

DOMINATION OF THE FOOD IN-DUSTRY BY BIG PACKERS
CERTAIN UNLESS GOV-ERNMENT INTERFERES.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 11.—Approaching domination of all important foods and many industries, not all of them related, and international control of all meat products by "big five" packers, seems a certainty unless fundamental legislative action prevents, the Federal Trade Commission declared today in a report to President Wilson on the extent and growth of the power of these companies. Alleging that Swift & Co., Armour & Co., Wilson & Co., Morris & Co., and Cudahy Co., jointly or separately, control five hundred and seventy-four companies and have a minority interest in ninety-five others, and a determined interest in ninety-three, and that they produce and deal in no less than seven hundred and seventy-five home commodities, the report pictures startlingly a packer invasion into all related and unrelated industries.

Ten Million Suit Filed Against Steel Companies

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 10.—Suit for $10,000,000 damages for alleged wrongful arrest was filed in Jefferson county circuit court today by W. A. Denson of this city against the United States Steel Corporation, the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company, the Birmingham Southern Railroad company, the Illinois Central Railroad company, the Republic Iron and Steel company, Charles F. DeBaldobien, Borden Burr, the William J. Burns International Detective agency, Inc., and members of the last named firm as individuals.

Denson alleges the defendants caused his arrest on a charge of violation of section three of the espionage act, which, according to his bill of complaint has been judicially investigated, resulting in his discharge. Jury trial of the suit is demanded.

Ada and Pontotoc County Citizens Indignant Over Correll Murder in Mexico

Indignation is rapidly growing in this city and county over the murder of John W. Correll and the horrible treatment accorded his family in Old Mexico on June 16.

Whatever might be said of John Correll—and the News, most certainly, knows nothing against him—the fact remains that he was an American citizen, and it is the bounden duty of American citizens to do everything in their power to induce the federal government to make a thorough investigation of the case and do what it can in an effort to redress the grievances of his widow and children.

While the state department at Washington is loath to give the facts to the public, organizations designed for the protection of American rights in Mexico estimate that, leaving war out of the question, at least 540 American citizens have been murdered in Mexico during the past five years. The figures are astounding when it is considered that these were cold blooded murders, and when the further fact is known that in most cases rapine and robbery befell the wives and families of the murdered victims of Mexican banditry.

In view of these facts it is not strange that the citizens of this country who are most directly affected by these outrages are becoming tired of such outlawry, and are demanding that the federal government do something to put a stop to it if such be possible.

In voicing their protest against the murder of Mr. Correll, and the inhuman treatment inflicted upon his wife and son, the citizens of Ada and Pontotoc county are doing nothing less than their plain duty.

In this spirit a committee of Ada and Pontotoc county citizens have issued a call for a mass meeting to be held at the courthouse Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, to make formal protest against this outrage and to petition the federal government for a redress of the grievances of the widow and children of this unfortunate man.

Appropriate resolutions will be introduced and voted upon.

Normal Notes

The regular weekly picture show will be held at the Normal this evening, commencing at 8:30 sharp. The program on this occasion will probably be one of the best of the season. Thacker's "Vanity Fair" is the main film to be shown, which will be followed by a laughable comedy. The students have been looking forward to the coming of "Vanity Fair," and now that they will be able to see it they are overjoyed.

The students at the summer Normal from Pottawatomie county are to entertain the faculty of the Normal at 7 o'clock tonight. The entertainment will be at the Normal building and it will precede the picture program. All the teachers from Pottawatomie county will take part.

The tennis contest for all local players will take place at the Normal grounds commencing this afternoon at 4 o'clock. It will likely continue today, tomorrow and into Monday. Several contestants will take part and the contest is expected to be quite exciting.

Miss Keller's classes in chorus and individual singing will give a program at the Normal on Friday night of next week. This is the only program Miss Keller will give during the summer term. She has done great work in the music course, and her success with the pupils will be demonstrated at the exercises next Friday evening.

HAM AND RAMSAY HERE.—Do not let a Methodist fail to attend the revival services, and let all be at Sunday School Sunday morning at 9:45. 7-11-21.

HAM AND RAMSAY ARRIVED YES- TERDAY AND BIG REVIVAL OPENS ON SCHEDULE TIME.

The biggest religious campaign ever staged in this section of the country opened last evening at 8 o'clock at the big tabernacle on Rennie, between Ninth and Tenth streets, this city.

The evangelist is Rev. M. F. Ham, of Anchorage, Kentucky, the choir leader and assistant is Mr. W. J. Ramsay, of Chattanooga, Tennessee.

For several weeks the ministerial alliance of this city, together with church officers and all enthusiastic church members, have been making preparations for the big revival which opened last evening under most favorable auspices, and which is scheduled to continue for a period of six weeks.

Unless otherwise announced, there will be services 10 o'clock each morning, continuing until 11 o'clock, and at 8 o'clock in the evening, except Monday of each week, on which day there will be no services at all. On each Sunday there will be three services, one at 10 in the morning, one at 4 in the afternoon and the regular evening service at 8.

The minister and singer are men of national reputations and have conducted successful revival meetings in nearly every state in the union and in many of the leading cities of the various states.

Arrived Here Yesterday.

Messrs. Ham and Ramsay arrived in the city over the north-bound Katy yesterday afternoon and went immediately to their quarters at the Harris Hotel where they will remain throughout the period of the revival. The wives of the two gentlemen will arrive within the next few days, both of whom are accomplished pianists and who will assist in the work.

Special prayer meetings have been held at the various churches during the past few weeks, and the opening meeting last evening was preceded by sixteen different prayer meetings throughout the city yesterday afternoon.

The big tabernacle, with a seating capacity of over 4,000, is pronounced by the company to be one of the best they have ever had, and it is estimated that within a week or ten days additional seats will have to be placed on the grounds.

The Opening Service.

The opening service last evening was attended by over 2,000 people, and the choir leader, Mr. Ramsay, found timber aplenty awaiting him in the big choir platform back of the minister's pulpit.

These were soon shifted to proper position and the song service started off with a vim.

After the preliminaries the evangelist was introduced by Rev. G. W. Beck, pastor of the Presbyterian church of this city, and for an hour and a quarter he held the attention of his audience at almost breathless silence.

The evangelist is a commanding figure, probably six feet tall with proportionate weight, and dresses in the comfortable business garb rather than the excessive apparel of the erstwhile conventional minister.

Audience Somewhat Surprised.
When the evangelist stepped to the pulpit, took his text from the sixth chapter of Ephesians, his theme from the twelfth verse of the same, and proceeded to preach an old-time gospel sermon, the audience was visibly surprised.

They had evidently expected some unusual preliminaries, but the preliminaries were not in evidence. There were no promises, prognostications or threats, but Christ and Him crucified seemed to be the style of Rev. Ham's preaching.

The twelfth verse of the sixth chapter of Ephesians reads: "For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places."

The text was often quoted throughout the discourse and the devil himself was the object of attack.

With a thrilling climax lasting for fifteen minutes, during which time not a single person stirred, the evangelist closed his discourse abruptly, the choir sang the closing hymn and the evangelist himself pronounced the benediction. As the great audience dispersed nothing but words of praise and commendation for the speaker could be heard.

Members of "Pale Face" Race Hold Most Solemn Ceremony Near Overbrook

By the Associated Press

ARDMORE, July 11.—Members of the "pale face" race were witnesses recently to one of the most interesting and solemn ceremonies known to the Mississippi Choctaw Indians at Overbrook, near Ardmore. The ceremony, known as "yaiya" (funeral cry) is said to be the most sacred of the Choctaw traditions.

The occasion was a three-day period of mourning for the family of Wonch Morris, who recently died. He was survived by a large number of relatives. The "yaiya" ceremony was carried out with all the Indian customs and traditions, beginning Friday, July 4, and continuing three days.

A large number of white persons, as well as Indians, of other tribes, witnessed the proceedings, many for the first time.

In observing the custom there is no set calendar date fixed, but the date is appointed by the closest relative of the dead, who invites all to be present at a certain time to take part in the funeral cry over the dead.

The reason for this, it is explained, is that when death overtakes a member of the tribe, relatives and friends may be scattered far and wide and unable to attend the last rites; to grant the latter the privilege of showing the proper respect, and offering consolation to the bereaved ones, invitations are sent apprising them of the time and place where the ceremony will be held. In olden times this was done by messenger, but during modern times the same object is accomplished through the medium of the United States mail.

A prominent Choctaw Indian, in explaining this custom, said: "When the white people bury their dead they observe the custom of holding funeral services either at the home of the deceased or at the church, and again at the grave, after which the usual period of mourning is indulged in. The Indian, too, observes this ceremony, but feels that it does not suffice, and for that reason we believe it fitting to maintain ancient traditions in order that all relatives and friends may be present."

Moliycoddle Shows Himself Some Fighter

A writer in the Sioux Falls (S. D.) Press gives an account of a "sissy" he knew who waded in and showed that "sissified" though he might be, as a soldier in the big war he was a regular bear-cat, musing up all kinds of Huns, getting gassed, and pulling many other stunts entirely incompatible with "sissiness." So surprised is the Press man over all this that he heads his story, "Well! Don't That Beat the Dutch?" We are under the impression that this is only a sample of a large number of narratives of exactly the same kind that might be told of things that took place in the war. Nearly always the boys who are considered "molly-coddles" by their boyhood companions in later life figure prominently in exploits that make the blood run cold while the embryo "roughnecks" develop into spineless creatures in mortal fear of getting a grease-spot on their garments because of the dire effect it may have on the uncertain temper of the women who in an unguarded moment married them. With all these things in mind, we submit the Press man's yarn as follows:

Once upon a time when we were doing newspaper guard duty in a little town we knew a fellow who had what you might call feminine peculiarities. He had "great big beautiful eyes," and a sort of girlish complexion, and pretty hair, and he didn't walk like a man, nor talk like a man.

Would Make Fine Corset Salesman. He associated with men, but the rest of the inhabitants thought it was not by choice. He had the prettiest clothes! Regular dreams, with lots of embroidered stuff on them. And we all thought he was sorry he couldn't wear laces and other frilly things. He knew all about quality when it came to ladies' raiment. He knew what it meant to be cut on the bias—we guess he had his own clothes made that way. If he hadn't had a pretty good job we are sure he could have qualified as an expert salesman in a corset department—many of us were willing to bet that he wore one himself. When tating broke out, he was interested, and it was the gossip of the village that he put in rainy evenings tating.

He wasn't a bad sort of a guy. He wanted to make himself agreeable. He even endured the ordinary cigarette, though the rest of us had a sneaking notion that he would have preferred the scented kind. In a pinch he would drink his—er pop out of a bottle. But it shocked the others to see him do it and made 'em uncomfortable, and they always managed to have some kind of a glass for him the second time 'round. He even went to baseball games—but he did not play, those lily-white hands would have been unburned. We always thought that the violent crack of the bat against the ball distressed him terribly. Had he been compelled to attend a game every day and listen to that fearful noise, we know he

CAN TOUR ITALY BY AIRSHIP

ASSOCIATED PRESS CORRESPONDENT RECENTLY VISITED ROME IN A BIG DIRIGIBLE.

By the Associated Press

ROME.—(By mail.)—American tourists may hereafter visit Roman ruins—the Coliseum, Forum, Pantheon, Caracalla baths and the basilica of Constantine, St. Peter's and other Rome gems, hereafter, not in antiquated horse-drawn carriages, but in airships. The Italian navy has established a commercial dirigible service for visiting Rome and its environs from the air. The venture has met with complete success for daily the aircraft are filled to capacity.

The correspondent of The Associated Press viewed Rome from the Italian navy's dirigible H-1. On board were diplomatic representatives of all the allied countries to the number of 34, the capacity of the craft. The United States representative was Colonel Buckley, military attaché, here.

Those in the party of long residence here stated that looking at Rome from the dirigible brought out features of it which went unperceived to the observer below. His view from the air gave the eye an entirely different aspect of their beauty and form. The riches of Rome in hidden gardens could only be appreciated from above, it was agreed.

Looking at the Coliseum from the ground, it appears to be a circular mass of ruined grandeur. From the air, the elliptical proportions of the second greatest accumulation of masonry in history are pronounced.

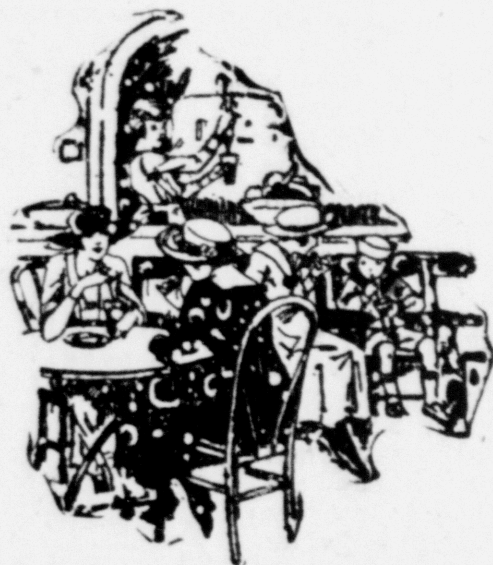

The proceeds from the dirigible service are given to the Italian funds for those disabled in the war. Tea is served in mid-air and letters accepted for postage.

Italy Finds U. S. Opposition Firm Against Claims

ROME, July 11.—Italy must abandon some of her dreams of territorial expansion as a result of opposition from the United States, according to the view communicated to King Victor Emmanuel and the Italian cabinet by Signor Tittoni, the foreign minister. The minister reported "that it is impossible to shake American opposition to Italian sovereignty of Fiume."

Nor is it possible, added Signor Tittoni, to obtain concessions for Italy in any part of the Adriatic hinterland. Furthermore, Italy must abandon the idea of important colonial compensations in Africa at the expense of Great Britain or France, or expansion in Turkey (Smyrna) at the expense of Greece.

Contest of Dry Law Is Planned by Democrats; Kitchen to Lead Fight

WASHINGTON, July 11.—A determined fight to repeal war time prohibition will be launched by administration democrats and "wets" of both parties when the enforcement bill now before the house is taken up for amendment.

This move is being engineered by Representative Kitchen of North Carolina, democratic leader in the last congress.

He has received many assurances of support, but is doubtful whether the repeal amendment can get by a point of order that it is not germane to the bill, which is certain to be made.

Special Rule Asked. The rules committee may be asked to report out a special rule making the amendment in order, if this action should become necessary. Representative Campbell, chairman of the committee, said today that he would not oppose the rule, but the staunch "dry" members may be able to prevent favorable action.

In any event the repeal motion will have two chances of reaching a vote. The member of the house presiding over the committee of the whole will rule on the point of order when it is moved to strike out that portion of the enforcement bill dealing with war time prohibition and insert in lieu thereof the provision for repeal of the original war time act.

Included in Bill. If the first ruling sustains the point of order, a motion to recommit the bill to the judiciary committee with instructions to re-report it with the repeal amendment included will be offered when the bill comes up for final passage in the house. Speaker Gillett will be in the chair to rule on the motion at this time.

At Mr. Kitchen's request the speaker is now studying the rules to see if the repeal amendment may be declared in order. The former democratic leader is a consistent advocate of prohibition but under the present circumstances he believes it to be only fair and just that war time prohibition be repealed.

"Wets" Revise Plans. The "wet" leaders revised their plan of action today. If they find it impossible to put through any of the amendments they have ready to offer, they will attempt, as a last resort, to make the proposed law fair to all the people, as they put it, by inserting a drastic search and seizure provision.

Bill Haywood Makes Bond and Will Soon Go Free

CHICAGO, July 11.—Bonds for the release of William D. Haywood, leader of the 93 I. W. W. defendants, convicted before Judge Landis last August, have been approved by District Attorney Clyne and the court of appeals.

Attorney Otto Christensen deposited with the clerk of the federal court Liberty bonds and cash totaling $10,500. Real estate valued at $27,000 scheduled by William Bross Lloyd, millionaire socialist, and $6,000 in real estate by Mary Marcey, a newspaper writer. Haywood's bonds are fixed at $15,000. An order will be sent to the warden of the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, ans., for his release.

Caesar's Ghost! Editors to Have Five Day Week

LONDON.—(By mail.)—All the regular editors, special writers and reporters of The Times, Daily Mail and Evening News are to have two days each week for rest or recreation under the "five day working week" which Viscount Northcliffe is introducing in his newspaper properties.

The writing staffs of The Times and Daily Mail already have been reorganized on this basis and the system is to be extended to The News.

The same system is to be arranged in the near future for all others on these papers including all members of the business staffs, the Lord Northcliffe's view is that all men, especially those engaged in brain work, attain their highest efficiency by this division of work and recreation, and by a complete change at these regular and frequent intervals.

The chief rival of Lord Northcliffe in adherence to the theory of short hours and better work is the great soap magnate, Lord Leverhulme, formerly Williston Lever. His ambition is to have a working day of six hours for all his thousands of employees, and he has even hinted at a four hour day as a possibility of the future.

The Covenanter Letters

Being a Discussion of the Covenant of the League of Nations by Eminent Men.

ARTICLE VIII.
Reduction of Armaments.
By Article VIII the League members expressly declare that the maintenance of peace requires the reduction of national armaments to the lowest point consistent with national safety and the enforcement by common action of international obligations. Taking account of the geographical situation and circumstances of each state, the Council is to formulate plans for such reduction for the consideration and action of the several governments. The League members agree to exchange full information as to the scale of their armaments, their military and naval programmes and their warlike industries. After adoption by the several governments of the plan of reduction, the limits of armaments therein fixed are not to be exceeded without the concurrence of the Council. The plans are to be reconsidered and revised at least every ten years. The League members agree that the manufacture by private enterprise of munitions and implements of war is open to grave objections and the council is to advise how these evils can be prevented.

This is the first of the four great steps toward securing permanent peace in the League Constitution and is as important as any. One of the great factors in bringing on this war and in making it was the race in armaments between the European nations. Prussia under Bismarck perfected its military establishment by winning three wars, first against Denmark, secondly against Austria and then against France—thus the German Empire was made in 1871. From that time on the German armament has been increased and has kept pace with the growth of German desire for world domination. A thorough and drastic system of conscription, military training and reserves, built up the German military establishment so that it was a perfect machine and far more formidable than that of any other government. Fear of it prompted every continental nation not in alliance with Germany to enlarge its armament. Germany's allies, Austria and Italy, joined in the race at her instance. Thus these huge war establishments went on increasing from decade to decade. After a time, Germany acquired naval ambition, and then the race began between her and Great Britain.

Evils of Militarism.
The inevitable result of all of this with its intent was war and war came. The evils may be easily summarized:

First: Grievous burdens of taxation were imposed upon the peoples of the competing countries. Their producing capacity was seriously impaired by consuming three years of the best producing part of the lives of their young men.

Second: Consciousness of the power of such a military establishment produced a truculence and bullying tendency on the part of Germany who kept ahead in the race. The Kaiser flaunted to the world the diplomatic triumphs he achieved by standing forth in his "shining armor." His military machine and his knowledge of the defects of the Russian and French machines led him to improve the occasion of the Austrian-Serbian difficulty to seek war before the defects of his rivals could be supplied. Thus the race of armament brought on this war.

Third: The growth of these enormous armaments under such conditions have made this war the most destructive in history. Peoples and civilizations have been the objects of attack, not armies merely. The killing of noncombatants, old men, women and children and the permanent devastation of enemy country have been features of the German campaigns and all because the vast military preparations and the organization of suitable machinery naturally led to this method of winning lasting victory and permanent conquest.

This succession of causes with the result is bound to recur again unless the great powers of the world lead all nations to suppress such dangerous competition. The end is to be achieved so far as Germany, Austria and Turkey are concerned by compulsory terms of peace. The drastic provisions of the treaty just presented to the Germans for their signature leave no doubt on this point.

International Restraint.
But how as to the other nations? How can they be restrained? No other method has been or can be suggested but by an agreement such as is embodied in the League. Why should the United States not enter the agreement? It is objected that by doing so this nation is delegating to a foreign body in which it has only one representative the limit ing of its power to defend itself from foreign aggression and possible destruction. It is said that it leaves us "naked to our enemies." The answer to the objections is full and complete. First, the Council in formulating the plan and fixing limits must act unanimously. Therefore, the plan can not be adopted by the Council without the consent of the American Representative in that body. This is a guarantee that the limits to be fixed would not be unfair or unreasonable so far as we are concerned. Secondly, after the plan has been formulated and the limits fixed, each government must accept it before it is adopted. Therefore, the government of the United States through its congressional agencies, the treaty-making power and in this case the congress as well, will consent and fix the limits of armament if they deem it wise. Surely this protects us against the arbitrary or unfair fixing of a limit by any body but ourselves. Are we children who cannot protect our own interests in making such an agreement?

JENNY LIND PIANO SOLD TO A CONNECTICUT JUNK MAN
Hartford Courant: Middletown, Conn. The piano once used by Jenny Lind in her grand concert tour of this country, and which has been resting at the second-hand store of Thomas E. Smith in this city for more than twenty years, has been sold to a New Haven junk man and removed to that city. There is an interesting story back of the piano. Phineas T. Barnum, the great American showman, in 1850, engaged Jenny Lind, the Swedish soprano, for a concert tour of the United States, for which he paid her $302,000 and contracted with a company in New York to construct a mammoth square piano for the concert at a cost of $5,000. While this piano was in public use, no duplicate was to be made. Its case and legs were of Santo Domingo mahogany, enameled in ivory and embellished in gold. Otto Goldschmidt was her accompanist on the Crystal Palace piano, and married Jenny Lind while they were on the concert tour in this country. The Crystal Palace was destroyed by fire in 1857 and the late Allyn

M. Colegrove of this city, owned of the McDonough House block, bought the piano for private use for $1,000 and had it removed to his home, called Colegrove Castle, on the Midfield Road, where it remained mute for more than forty years. Many old citizens may recall seeing the instrument there in the back parlor, its top forming a storage for discarded and out of season hose, scythes and farming tools for which there was not room on the veranda or in the yard. After the death of Mr. Colegrove, Smith bought the piano and has had it at his store ever since.

Mexico Places Claim Offices In Metropolis

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The Mexican government has installed a financial agent in New York so that Americans with damage claims against the Mexican government may obtain speedy redress.

The financial agent holds forth at 120 Broadway—a location that leaves nothing to be desired as far as financial stability is concerned, and everything is apparently lovely. The only fly in the ointment lies in the fact that the claims of Americans will in time be sent to the claims commission, formed by President Carranza in 1917 and which is as yet unacceptable to the United States.

In view of this the Mexican government is evidently endeavoring to have the American people accept this claims commission in the face of the unacceptance of it by their government, and it has begun a campaign through paid advertisements in newspapers to popularize the commission. The first advertisements appeared a day or two ago and was entitled "The Truth About Mexico."

Telephone No. 4.

MEXICO, A DEN OF VIPERS.

The murder of John W. Correll, of this county, the attempted murder of his son and the unmentionable asault upon Mr. Correll's wife after his murder by Mexican bandits, demands the immediate attention of the American government and drastic means to prevent the recurrence of such damnable deeds.

This government has given domicile to hundreds of thousands of Mexicans. We have admitted these semi-barbarians to citizenship, civilized them and placed the strong arm of protection about them.

In return for our kindnesses they murder our citizens, rob their homes and violate their wives.

From time immemorial citizens along the border have been subjected to every conceivable kind of depredations. In fact a modified state of warfare is in existence there at all times. Life and property are continually in jeopardy, and when a depredation is committed all the people of Texas ever get at the hands of the federal government is a superficial investigation.

Investigations do not bring back lives; they do not restore burned and devastated property; they do not even make the peace and welfare of the people safe from frequent repetition of the same things.

The American people near the border, and even in the interior, are tired of such tactics.

Mexico is nothing but a rendezvous for outlaws and semi-savages, and some of the best thinking people in this country have reached the conclusion that the only sensible thing to do is to take Mexico just like Grant took Richmond.

It is one of the richest countries in the whole world, yet it is going to waste for the lack of the magic wand of capital and the application of the hand of honest industry.

John Correll and family had complied with the immigration laws and had gone into Mexico to make a living, just as hundreds of thousands of Mexicans have come into this country to do the same thing. As a reward for his industry he was murdered in cold blood by a band of "greasers" who never worked and who were not willing to let others work.

What happened to Correll has happened to thousands of others during the past few years.

The time has come to avenge the lives of these American citizens, and in our judgment it will take the entire republic of Mexico and all that it contains and possessions to pay the debt.

This is a good job for the army of the unemployed and we are in favor of mustering them into service at once.

EUROPE AND WATER DRINKING.

Europeans, as they become increasingly acquainted with Americans and their customs, are especially astonished at the amount of water we drink. When ice is added to cool the water, their astonishment verges on stupefaction.

It is true that Americans are water-drinkers; and Americans, take them en masse, are healthier than Europeans largely because they do drink more water.

The scant use of water in those foreign countries is due mainly to the fact that their water supplies are poor, and wells are frequently infected with disease germs. Sanitation is in its infancy over there as compared with this country. The European likes his light wine and his beer, of course, but he would be less devoted to them if his water was fit to drink.

It is probable that a more advanced idea of sanitary water supply will be one of the chief results of the long stay of our armies in Europe. A few years from now the source of astonishment will be not the amount of water we consume, but the fact the Europeans themselves ever thought life possible with such slight and unsafe supplies of drinking water. If this proves true, it will be one of the greatest gifts of America to the countries over the sea.

A good many cities are raising the fare on "owl cars" to 10 cents. And the joke is on the trolley companies. After July 1 there will be mighty little use for owl cars.

The fishing season is here. The annual angler is announcing that he caught a five-pounder with his bare hands. It sounds bare-faced to us.

The State Press

Oklahoma City Times: Oklahoma democrats should be solid and enthusiastic in support of Senator Owen for President. He is the type of statesman who is certain to win support in other states. Splendidly equipped to meet the great economic questions which must confront this country and the world in the coming years, his nomination and election to the highest office would be a splendid service to the country and humanity.

Every Job Is Big.

Drumright Derrick: The fact that many of the returning soldiers have grown "too big for their jobs" is asserted as one reason why comparatively few have returned to work. These men have received from the great adventure a stimulation of all their faculties. They cannot settle their expanding minds down to the routine of the old tasks.

Now, America cannot have too many young men with great ambitions and the determination to turn them into realities. But scorn any job, however apparently unimportant, is not the way to bring big ambitions to pass.

Lieut. Col. Arthur Woods, formerly police commissioner of New York City, now in charge of the government's work of re-establishing soldiers and sailors in civil life, said in a recent interview:

"One man said to me: 'How can I go back to my old job? What's the use of running an elevator up to the top story when there is nothing to do but run it down again? What's the good of it all?'"

"Another man said he just could not bring himself down to work again at his own job and 'push a pen across a page'—he couldn't see what was the use of doing it, and he wanted to do something that he felt worth doing."

This is a twisted way of looking at jobs. What are elevators for? To expedite business. Men and women must be carried up to the top story and down again, in order that the work of the world go on. The clothes that elevator boy wore, the food he ate, his shelter, his amusement, were all made the easier of getting because there were elevators and men to run them.

Pushing a pen across a page, keeping records and accounts, is one of the most important factors in the upward march of humanity. Only upon accumulated records can the future gains be founded.

These boys had better take the job that offers, realizing that no job is small in the scheme of life. And from the vantage point of one job, the ambitious man may look out for the next step in his rise.

The Fruits of Bolshevism—Women at the Mercy of Men.

Oklahoma City News: The battle of argument as to what is going on in Russia has raged for a year about the treatment of women.

Out of Russia came the statement that at Saratov, at Vladimir, at Luga, and in other places, women were declared to be the property of the state, and compelled to accept "husbands" provided by the state, and that these "husbands" need not marry or assume any responsibility for the children, but the children became in turn the property of the state.

The defenders of Bolshevism have urged in turn that: (1) This story was absolutely false; (2) Some "schoolboys" printed the decrees mentioned; and (3) That certain anarchists, to discredit the Bolshevik movement, had printed and pasted up these decrees.

As a matter of fact, if the Bolshevik government has not adopted this policy, it is because it doesn't think the time is ripe. The spirit of these alleged decrees is found in the regulation on "Divorces" issued Dec. 18, 1917, by Lenine, Sverdlov and Bonch-Bruyevich. This decree provided:

1: Marriage is annulled by the petition of both parties or even of one of them.

6: Having convinced himself that the petition of the annulment of marriage really comes from both parties or from one of them, the judge personally and singly renders the decision of annulment of marriage and issues a certificate thereof to the parties.

Every woman is at the mercy of her husband. The divorce is automatic. The husband files the petition, appears in court, and then the judge annuls the marriage.

Maybe "nationalization" would have been worse than this divorce system, but would our American women want either?

Our mothers say—NO!

Alexandria.

Alexandria, founded by the world conqueror, Alexander the Great, is an Egyptian city that is eager to lose its connection with the faraway past and become completely modernized. Fate has favored this ambition, for the women that Cleopatra knew have been eaten by fire or swept away by the sea. Alexandria is a city of trade and fashion, dominated by prosperous Europeans too deeply absorbed in the stock exchange to be even vaguely interested in the romantic side of their city.

Dictaphone Calls Mother.

A dictaphone with a megaphone and a loud-speaking amplifier in the receiver is shown in Popular Mechanics Magazine. With the receiver fastened to the baby's cot in the nursery upstairs, and the megaphone placed in the parlor below, the arrangement works to satisfaction. Mother may go about her housework while baby will sleep soundly, undisturbed by the noise of the living room, but if he should awaken, his cries will be instantly heard downstairs.

Sympathetic Brothers.

The boys of the neighborhood were anticipating the time when they could go fishing. Everett, noticing his little sister standing inside the yard, watching them wistfully through the fence, and listening to their plans without joining the conversation, remarked in an aside to his companions: "Gee, it must be tough to be only a girl."

COASTWISE STEAMERS TIED UP ON ACCOUNT OF STRIKE

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 11.—Several coastwise steamers have been prevented from sailing, and others due to leave tomorrow are tied up, unless they can replace striking firemen, water tenders and oilers, who struck yesterday for fifteen dollars a month wage increase. Officials of the International Seamen's Union estimated that three thousand men were affected and that they would be joined by seamen, stewards, cooks engineers and mates. This would mean about forty thousand men walking out.

THE TOWN GOSSIP

By MILTON LESTER

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

I WAS on my way.

OUT FOR a walk.

AND HAPPENED to pass.

A HOUSE.

NEAR THE edge of town.

AND NOTICED two ladies.

WHO ARE well known.

AND THEY were leaning.

OVER A fence.

AND AS I passed by.

I HEARD one of them say:

"ISN'T THAT cow pretty."

AND THE other one.

SPOKE UP and said:

"SHE CERTAINLY is.

"AND I'LL bet.

"SHE'S JUST as gentle.

"AS SHE can be."

AND THE first one.

WITH THE remark.

THAT SHE wished.

SHE OWNED a cow like that.

AND THAT it would be fine.

BECAUSE SHE'D often heard.

THAT FRESH cow's milk.

WAS AWFULLY healthful.

AND BY that time.

MY CURIOSITY was aroused.

AND IN a way I'm interested.

IN COWS myself.

AND I craned my neck.

TO GET a look.

AT THE cow.

WHICH THEY were admiring.

AND WHEN I did.

I ALMOST choked.

AND HAD to cough real hard.

TO KEEP from strangling.

AND THE ladies.

LOOKED AT me.

KIND OF suspicious-like.

BUT I didn't say anything.

AND EVER since then.

WHEN I'D think of it.

I'D BURST out laughing.

AND I can't help it.

BUT NEVERTHELESS.

THERE'S A serious side.

TO THE incident.

AND I can't help but wonder.

WHY SOME city folks.

DON'T KNOW more.

ABOUT FARM animals.

AND ASTRONOMY.

AND BIOLOGY.

AND COW-OLGY.

AND OTHER things.

I THANK you.

ANNOUNCING

The Ada Cleaning and Dye Works

We have instituted a partnership for installing and operating a modern cleaning and dye works. Our machinery, which is of the latest and most approved type, has been contracted for at a cost of $5,000.00, and we will be located in the Rives building on West Main.

Construction of our cleaning room, which, according to law must be absolutely fireproof, will begin within a few days. This will be on the rear of the lot on which our business house will be erected.

When our new equipment is installed we will have—NOT A CLEANING AND PRESSING PARLOR — but a THOROUGHLY MODERN CLEANING WORKS, where all classes of cleaning and dyeing are executed.

At present our business is operating in the building with the Gay-Kirby Electric Co., 107 West 12th Street. We are turning out the best class of work that can be done in our line with the ordinary equipment. When our new stuff comes—OH, BOY!

WE WILL APPRECIATE YOUR PATRONAGE

CIVIL WAR VETERAN WOULD AID FRIENDS

KENDRICK SAYS TANLAC DID HIM SO MUCH GOOD HE WANTS TO GIVE EVERY OLD SOLDIER A BOTTLE.

"I wish I could buy every old soldier a bottle of Tanlac, for from the way it has fixed me up I believe it would add years to their lives," said Frank B. Kendrick, a Civil War veteran living at 4800 Charlotte avenue, Nashville, Tenn. "Some time back," he continued, "I had rheumatism so bad and went down so fast that it looked like I was on the verge of a general breakdown, and had about despaired of ever walking again. I was fast losing what little flesh and strength I had left and could hardly get from my bed to my chair. I had no appetite, could hardly sleep and suffered constantly with awful headaches.

"After taking Tanlac a short while I began to improve. I kept it up until now I have gained 13 pounds and feel better and younger than I have in years. Tanlac just filled me with new life and energy and put me on my feet again. I have a fine appetite and can walk anywhere I want to go and hardly feel it at all."

Tanlac is sold in Ada by Gwin & Mays Drug Co. —Adv.

CLUBS MAKING EFFORT TO END MUSKOGEE CAR STRIKE

MUSKOGEE, July 11.—The civic organizations of Muskogee have taken a hand in the street car employees' strike, which has been in effect since May 30, during which time no cars have been run. The Lions, the Rotary Club and the Chamber of Commerce, working together, have submitted to the striking employees and the officials of the Muskogee Electric Traction Company a plan for arbitrating the dispute. The plan provides for the creation of an arbitration board of 9 members, three to be appointed by the striking employees, three by the traction company and one each of the civic organizations. Numerous proposals have been made and rejected by both parties to the controversy. The employees, early in the strike, declined to subscribe to the contract drawn by the national organizer and their attorney. They are making every effort to prevail upon the owners of the traction company to discharge R. D. Long as manager of the line.

The parties to the strike have not yet signified whether they will accept the proposition of the associated civic organizations.

HOG PRICES STILL SOAR INTO CLOUDS

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 11.—The price of hogs continued to soar upward yesterday when porkers brought a top price of $22.10 on the Oklahoma City market, establishing a new price record for the third time in three days. The increase was 20 cents over the top price of $21.90 brought on Tuesday. A small lot of hogs driven in from adjacent territory commanded the price.

The price yesterday was 70 cents higher than Monday's record of $21.40 for top price on hogs. A carload lot brought $22.

Consignments of hogs to the local market are not sufficient to fill the demand, it was stated. Shipments this week have been running from 400 to 750, while normal shipments here are almost double those figures. Cleaning up of the hogs ready for market in this territory and conflict of the harvest with the shipping are the two causes to which the jumps are attributed.

REFRIGERATOR SHIPS NEEDED FOR FRUIT

By the Associated Press

SAN JUAN.—(By mail.)—Fruit growers of Porto Rico have asked the Emergency Fleet Corporation to equip 100 steamers as refrigerator ships to carry fruit not only between Porto Rico and the mainland but between the United States, South America and European countries.

The fruit growers have submitted to the corporation a memorandum saying that each ship should have from 100,000 to 200,000 cubic feet of refrigerator space. They assert that last year they lost more than $500,000 on their products because of insufficient tonnage and because none of it was equipped with even partial refrigeration facilities. The statement declares that, aside from the lines engaged in the banana-carrying trade, the United States has not more than a dozen partly equipped insulated refrigerator ships.

These proposed refrigerator ships, it is urged by the fruit growers, should have a speed of from 12 to 14 knots. It is pointed out that few freighters of such speed now are afloat. The Porto Ricans argue that shipping from the United States to South America must pass through the Tropics and that in doing so perishable products carried in the holds of ordinary ships are delivered invariably in a partly damaged condition. They say also that refrigerator ships are needed to carry apples from North Atlantic ports, such as New York, Philadelphia and Boston to England and Scotland and that for lack of such ships, apples now suffer loss in transit.

They estimate that the crops of oranges, grape fruit and pineapples for the coming season probably will double that of last year and foresee a heavy loss unless adequate ships of an insulated type are provided to carry these crops.

PROHIBITION TO STOP TIPPING!

SO THINKS PRESIDENT OF OHIO HOTEL ASSOCIATION, ACCORDING TO A RECENT STATEMENT.

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, July 10.—With the going out of intoxicating liquor, the country is also likely to go on the "tipless" basis, according to A. C. Stephens, president of the Ohio Hotel association, who is in Chicago, arranging for the convention of his association to be held in connection with the Hotel Show here during the week of August 4th.

"I think the day of tips is over," said Mr. Stephens. "With the European source of supply practically cut off, it is hard to get waiters. So the hotels have been more and more carefully considering mechanical devices to take the place of servants."

"It is surprising to note how many really good hotels have installed cafeterias. I predict that more of them will do so. The cafeteria, as you know, is a strictly tipless institution. Even in dining rooms where there is service, the movement toward doing away with waiters is making rapid strides. There are all sorts of mechanical devices for this purpose. A mechanical system for checking hats and wraps has already been devised and I am sure will soon come into general use."

"With the going out of liquor and the curtailing of tips in consequence of this, waiters will be asking a wage scale two or three times as great as the present one, and the hotel men simply can't afford to pay it."

DUTCH ARE SILENT ON PLAN FOR THE KAISER

PARIS, July 11.—The peace conference is mystified by the policy of silence which Holland is observing toward it just now.

On June 25 the French foreign minister, Stephen Pichon, sent a note to The Hague requesting the Dutch government to appoint delegates to the conference immediately and send them to Paris to discuss the revision of the treaty of 1839 between Belgium and Holland. Not a word had been received in reply from Holland up to late tonight.

There is eager speculation whether this silence is deliberate or due to oversight. If no reply is received by the end of the week, Premier Clemenceau, as president of the peace conference, is expected to send a demand to The Hague to explain the Dutch government's silence.

LONDON SHOWS "BAD," SAYS LENA ASHWELL

By the Associated Press
LONDON.—(By mail.)—"Rotten, low and futile," Miss Lena Ashwell, one of the best known English actresses, has characterized the drama of today as represented on London's stages.

Addressing the inaugural meeting of the British Drama League, she said, nothing could be detrimental to the wholesome life of the nation than such plays.

"What astounds me," she continued, "is that there is no apprehension in this great country of the power of the drama."

She recalled that during the war Germany sent Shakespearean companies to Switzerland, while English dramatic art was represented in Paris by a revue. At the time of greatest stress none of the men from overseas who came to London had the opportunity of seeing any of the plays which represent England's national ideal, Miss Ashwell declared.

The point of view of the church was expressed by the Rev. H. R. L. Sheppard, who declared it to be "quite monstrous that the Christian Church does not possess its own theatre in London, where it might amplify the message it gives from the pulpit."

Telling of his experience with Shakespearean plays produced in the East End, he said: "The West End does not realize how the poorer people love good stuff. It is the same in France. Mr. Atkins does not want a bedroom scene any more than I. It does not shock him any more than it shocks me. It merely insults his intelligence."

MEXICAN BANDITS WRECKING TRAINS

WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS FROM SOUTH TO OPPOSE VILLA FORCES CAUSES THE TROUBLE.

By the Associated Press

LAREDO, Tex., July 10.—Withdrawal of troops from bandit-infested regions in central and southern Mexico to campaign against Villa in the north has led to a new wave of train wrecking and railway destruction in that republic according to stories printed by Mexico City papers received in this city.

The most striking feat of the rebels was the capture of a train from Mexico City to Puebla at a point only a few miles from the latter city by the forces of the former federal general, Cirilo Arenas, who revolted about a year ago. One hundred of the several hundred passengers were seized as hostages, among them an American, Charles Chapman. They were driven for hours on foot over rocky trails to the headquarters of the rebel chieftain. Later they were released without being held for ransom and made their way safely to Puebla. The bandits' loot is estimated at 100,000 pesos.

This followed close on the heels of the capture of six well known residents of Mexico City at a picnic resort known as the Desert of the Lions, not more than a dozen miles from the capital. The captors, former followers of Zapata, sent the women of the party back to Mexico City for a ransom of 2,400 pesos and released their captives when the money was delivered.

More than 100 followers of Pedro Gabay are reported to have been killed when federal forces recaptured the town of Chocoman, state of Vera Cruz.

The Excelsior tells of the murder by bandits of the millionaire, Enrique Langenschein, son of the German consul at Guanajuato. Langenschein met death at the hands of rebels fleeing from Michoacan into Jalisco, who caught him on his ranch near Lake Chapala.

OIL MEN ASK MEXICO FOR PERMIT TO ARM

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Representatives of American oil companies operating in Mexico were said to have asked the state department yesterday to request permission from the Mexican government for their employees in Mexico to arm themselves for protection against bandits.

It also was said that the department was asked to request permission for the oil companies to use airplanes in transporting money to the oil fields to pay their men so as to minimize the possibilities of the payroll falling into the hands of bandits.

Old Jack Is Dead.

Old Jack, the famous squirrel dog belonging to Charley Ray, is dead. Charley Ray is one of the best known citizens in this city, but he is no better known than was his "pal" and "side kick", Old Jack.

Jack disappeared some time Wednesday afternoon, contrary to his habits, and when he had failed to show up by late yesterday afternoon Charley knew that he had met with foul play, so a search was instituted. A little later a messenger brought the news to police headquarters that Jack's remains were under the Katy viaduct on the east side, and that indications were that he had been dead for several hours, possibly over night.

Mr. Ray hastened to the spot and on examination found that all indications pointed to the fact that Jack had been poisoned. Mr. Ray was interviewed by a News reporter this morning and stated that he was sure that Jack had been poisoned, but he did not admit any knowledge of the guilty culprit.

Mr. Ray did say, however, that whoever committed the deed had better keep the matter to himself, and his suggestion was that the guilty party should begin at once to attend the revival meeting at the big tabernacle and make an effort to get his religion on straight.

This is an exceptional obituary for a dog but Jack was an exceptional dog as most of the old timers in this community are aware.

The practice game of baseball between Ada and the team from Frisco yesterday is said to have been the best game the team has played this season. Every man on the team took part at different times. The game resulted in a victory for Ada by a score of 3 to 2. The Ada men are looking forward to the game Sunday between this city and Holdenville.

the strong man, the man high up in the world, the man whose downfall would cast a reflection on Jesus Christ and the Christian religion. Why waste time on a man who is already ensnared and who is made to believe a lie?"

"If I were the Devil, and were coming to Ada to see how much damage I could do, I would get after the preachers the very first thing. Why? Because they are in position to do the Devil and his works the most harm. If you want to cast a reflection on the Christian religion, just destroy a good Christian, pull down a good man. The unbeliever will then point to him as an example of Christian manhood. If I were the Devil and wanted to ruin Ada I would watch Cruchfield, Morris, Beck in fact all of the ministers. If they were preaching apologetic sermons and taking things easy with folded hands I wouldn't worry, but if they were busy and were preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ, pure and undefiled, I would be alarmed at the situation."

"The doctrine of the Devil, Darwin and Huxley—old, hard materialism—the doctrine that might makes right—plunged Germany, and consequently the whole world, into the bloodiest war of history. Furthermore, it was the prayers of Christian fathers and mothers that turned the tide against this terrible force, broke the Hindenburg line and saved the world from destruction."

"The gospel of Jesus Christ is the only power on earth to salvation. No organization on earth has withstood as much opposition and carried as much excess baggage as has the church. This fact, coupled with the further fact that it is still growing and is still battering at the gates of hell, is the best evidence in the world to me that it is founded on the rock of eternal truth."

SIDELIGHTS ON THE REVIVAL

By M. L. Chambers.

Rev. M. F. Ham and Wm. J. Ramsay arrived in the city on the west bound M. K. & T. yesterday afternoon, coming direct from Rev. Ham's home in Kentucky. Their wives did not come with them. The revivalists were met at the train by the ministers of the city who gave them a glad welcome. Marvin Brown was also there in his big Cadillac car and brought the revivalists to the Harris hotel where they are to stop during their stay in Ada.

The revivalists had hardly had time to register before Mr. Ramsay left the hotel to take a look at the tabernacle. He was more than delighted with the building and said it was the best they had had in a long time. In fact they never had one better. The Ada tabernacle was put up by the local committees and Mr. Baumgardner, their business manager, did not come to Ada to arrange the building.

Mr. Kaiser of Shawnee, was the first man to arrive at the meeting last night. He was there at 7:30 even arriving ahead of the reporter. Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Rowzee were next to arrive and they were soon followed by a steady stream of humanity. At 8 o'clock, when the services were supposed to commence, there were only 60 people present, but from then on they came in large numbers. The song service last night was opened at 8:30. The attendance at the first meeting is conservatively estimated at 2,800.

There are seats on the rostrum for 400 people. There are three sections in the main building with seats for about 3000. The choir is lighted with sixteen 100 candle power globes with one large globe over the speaker's stand. There are five lines of wire in the main auditorium, with five globes on each line. The building is well lighted.

Mr. Burnett is special policeman in charge of the building. He stays there night and day and has the authority of a regular officer.

A nursery has been provided for mothers with babies. It is in the rear of the tabernacle. Experienced nurses are in charge and any mother is more than welcome to leave her babies there while she attends the services. The children will be sympathetically looked after.

When Mr. Ramsay arrived at the tabernacle he was greeted with much applause. He was introduced to the choir by Rev. Geo. W. Beck. Mr. Ramsay then arranged the choir according to the parts they were to sing and the music was started. The book they use for singing is "Hymns of the Cross." It contains 53 songs, the music to 36 of which was written by Mr. Ramsay. The first song introduced last night was a very pretty one, entitled, "Serve Him Where You Are." During the singing of this hymn Mr. Ham made his first utterance at the meeting. The choir was singing so well that he was prompted to speak and he told them that when they got to where they could sing No. 16 they would be all right. They were soon singing it. The second song the choir took up was "Yet He Saved Me." This was followed by No. 16, the title of which is, "What Will It Be to Be There?" About 200 people were in the choir and they took hold of the songs in first class fashion.

The piano used is one the revivalists carry with them for all their campaigns. It is a Field-Lippman Grand, with a remarkable tone. Miss Murray Lucas, of the First Baptist church, was at the piano.

At the close of the song service Rev. G. W. Beck led in prayer. This was followed by the announcements and offering. Then Rev. Beck introduced Mayor Gary Kitchens, who in a few nicely chosen words welcomed the evangelists to the city. The mayor stated that he was in hearty accord with the meeting and that he had turned the keys of the city over to them during their stay here.

Rev. Beck then introduced Rev. M. F. Ham. Mr. Ham congratulated the citizens of Ada on their progressiveness and stated that they had never been at a place where they were given a heartier welcome, or where they had a more ideal tabernacle for holding their services. He also stated that he was glad to see the interest already manifested in the meeting in the 16 prayer-meetings held in different parts of the city yesterday afternoon. He then began his sermon.

After the sermon the choir sang another song for closing. The title of this song was "Talk It Over With Jesus." The audience joined in singing this. The choir leader asked the people to take this song home with them, and come back ready to go to work to make this revival the greatest they had ever known.

There were several Jews in the congregation last night, as well as a number of Catholics.

When Mr. Ramsay made his first talk he got the crowd with him by telling in a facetious manner of what they intended to do here. Among other things he said there would soon be people here not only from Pontotoc county, but from other places such as San Antonio, Tex., Dallas, Fort Worth, El Paso, New York, St. Louis, France, Europe, Great Britain and Shawnee. He stated that not only would they fill the large Ada tabernacle but they would have enough people there to fill one three times as large.

Rev. A. G. White, from Woodville, Okla., was among the out of town ministers present at the first service of the Ham-Ramsay meeting.

The News reporter asked Rev. Ham to name his favorite song in "Hymns of the Cross." The answer was No. 16 for chorus work and No. 7 for solo work. The title of No. 16 is "What Will It Be to Be There," and No. 7 is "Satisfied." The ministers stated that the best they had ever known No. 16 to be sung was at Elk City, where they had a number of high tenor singers to carry the melodious part of the song. He believes they will go even better at Ada.

Rev. M. F. Ham asks that he not be called "Doctor." He has not received any degrees to this effect from institutions of learning and even if he had, he wants no such appellation. He told the reporter that he had rather be called "Brother" than anything else. He stated further that it was shameful to think how the churches of the present age had permitted the word "Brother" to be taken from them by the fraternal societies, lodges, etc. The place of all places, says Brother Ham, where the word should be used, is in the church, and yet it is very seldom ever heard there. He will endeavor to have it placed back in use in Ada before he leaves here. So when you go to address the minister, don't call him "Doctor," but call him Brother Ham, or Mr. Ham.

The service last night was of two hours duration. It ended at 10:30. Tonight it starts at 8 and ends at 10. The interest last night was so intense that only about a dozen people left the building before the service closed.
